Montmorency Hooligan Tries to Sail for Europe Again!

He Bids Farewell to His Brothers Happy and Gloomy Gus!

THE LOVE OF LULU AND LEANDER

1. LEANDER: "Lulu, I'm going to bring my rich Uncle so see you this evening. Now, dear, I expect that he is going to leave me his immense fortune, and I want you to please and flatter him in every way possible. He is a testy old duck, so be careful!"
LULU: "I'll do my best, Leander, for your sake. I hope he will like me."

2. LEANDER (that evening): "Lulu, allow me to present my Uncle. Uncle, this is Lulu, my affianced bride."
LULU: "I'm delighted to meet Leander's Uncle, I'm sure."
UNCLE: "Why, bless my eyes! You charming little creature! I'm more than delighted to meet YOU."

3. UNCLE: "Why, if you aren't the dearest, sweetest little woman I've met for many a day! I never gave Leander credit for having such good taste. Yes, your Uncle must have a kiss from those cherry lips. A-a-a-h!"
LEANDER (aside): "Humph! He's pretty fresh, I think."

4. UNCLE: "Now don't be bashful with an old codger like your Uncle. A-a-h! Dear me! This makes me feel young again. Do you know what I am going to do? I'm going to give you a diamond necklace. Do I deserve another kiss for that? Sure I do. What are you scowling at, Leander?"
LEANDER (aside): "Money or no money, he's carrying things too far."

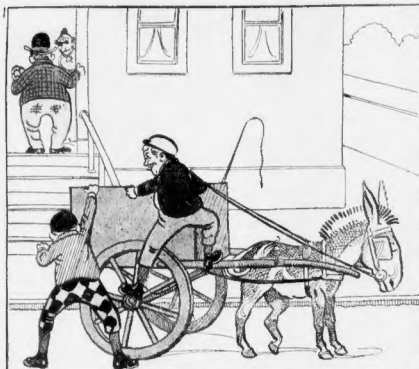

5. LULU: "Oh, you dear, sweet Uncle! Thank you! THANK YOU! You must let me kiss you for that."
UNCLE: "Now I tell you what I want you to do. I want you to go to the theatre to-night with me. Poo-hi! No, we want no youngster tagging after our heels! Why, I actually believe he's getting jealous!"
LEANDER (aside): "Ye gods! This is an outrage!"

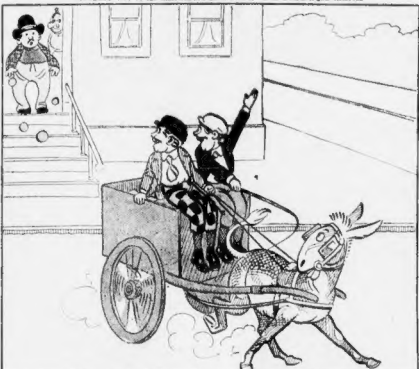

6. UNCLE: "All ready, are you? You look as sweet as a peach. Look here, young man, I pity a woman with a jealous husband. Now for YOUR insane jealousy and temper I'm going to cut you off without a penny and leave everything to your future wife, Lulu."
LULU: "Leander, I'm surprised at your silly actions after what you told me to do."
LEANDER (aside): "Ye gods! In it with both feet again!"

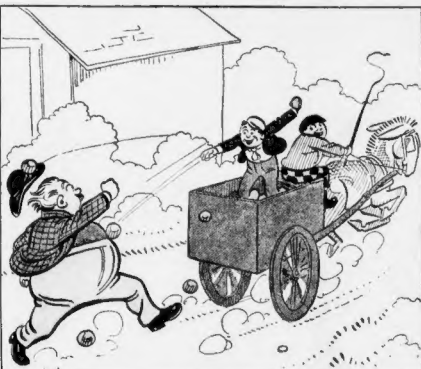

THE HANDY MAN FROM TIMBUCTOO AND HIS FASCINATING TIGER

1. An apple vendor happening to leave his cart one day, Two naughty boys jumped in and quickly drove the cart away.

2. To make the matter worse, the wicked boys, as off they ran, Begin to leer derisively and mock the apple man.

3. And when he shook his fist at them and angrily pursued, They pelted him with apples, which was really very rude.

4. But as they rattled down the road at a prodigious pace, They came upon the Handy Man and Tiger, face to face.

5. "Well, boys," the Handy Man exclaimed, "you've had YOUR fun to-day. Now let us try another game in which we all can play."

6. Then both the men and both the beasts climbed in the little cart, And both the boys were harnessed up to take the donkey's part.

Etchings by the American Helieu

THE exquisite works of Helieu, the great French dry-point etcher, have been shown from time to time to the readers of these pages in the charming portraits of Consuelo, the Duchess of Marlborough; Pauline Astor and many other notable examples. On this page to-day is shown the work of Mr. Otto J. Schneider, who is now called "The American Helieu." These charming dry-point etchings were made for this page by Mr. Schneider, and show striking similarity to the master touch of Helieu. Mr. Schneider is an American artist whose previous work has been well known in Chicago, but he has now moved his studio to New York.

"But, dear, was the woman allowed to be so careful, at the first unmistakable sign of unweariness upon her lover's part, to withdraw his freedom. Not that she should be exacting or jealous without cause. But if she had been as wise as a thermometer to her lover's condition, those who can successfully pretend to use affection are few and far between.

"Moreover, men who are strictly honorable will not be much rather to go back upon their pledged faith. How, then, could the woman asked a woman to marry him will fulfill the terms of the contract, even though her lover may be a hollow mockery. Some Simple Health Exercises for Busy City Men.

By Dudley A. Sargent, A. M., Sc. D.
M. D., Director of Physical Training at Harvard University.

AFTER graduating from school or college, young men miss the opportunity and incentive for physical training that stimulated them to effort during their more youthful days. It is true that many occupations in which young men engage do afford great opportunity for physical activity, but this activity is very haphazard and leaves a man in some degree of a different kind to keep him in good physical condition. This is especially the case in large cities, where good food and air are at a premium and where opportunity to exercise is very becoming all the more scarce.

Success in life depends largely upon energy, strength, courage, endurance, persistency, stamina and endurance, and it is in the province of athletics to cultivate and maintain these many virtues. Avail yourself of every chance to walk to and from your business, if not more than a mile or two in distance (usually less than a mile), stopping just short of the pressing point, then take an air value if you have only one or two days of walking to climb, swim, hunt, fish, row and dance as the opportunities present themselves.

Don't despise of attaining physical vigor even if all these avenues of sport are closed to you. Remember, you always have your athletic and physical exercises that you may take in your room to fall back upon.

I have given several results obtained by the practice of these simple exercises. They require a little courage at first, but if you keep at them persistently will the habit be established, and will surely follow, as a matter of course, and you will begin to feel stronger and better from the start. One advantage these exercises possess over any other is that they may be taken in the morning or evening, as you are dressing or undressing, so that no change of clothing is necessary. As a general rule, unless the temperature of the room is below fifty degrees, the best clothing one has on during exercise is the better.

Try to get into a prepared state, or at least a warm glow, before finishing your exercises. Take a cold sponge bath immediately afterward and rub down with a rough Turkish towel.

The exercises illustrated herewith will be found excellent for young business men and will be attended by the best results if followed faithfully and consistently.

If you have been inactive for a long time begin to exercise gently, doing but a few movements the first day, and gradually increasing the time and amount of effort as you grow stronger and more enduring. Never continue your exercises to exhaustion and always as gradually as you begin. Do not keep the muscles in the stretch or under prolonged contraction, as frequently required in maintaining strained positions. Best should be a warm, following exercise, and the best way to secure local heat is to use the muscles of some other part of the body.

The photographic illustrations for the exercises are a sufficient guide to the student who desires to use them. He should study carefully each photograph, noting the exact position of each arm and leg, the pose of head and general attitude of body, following them as faithfully as possible, and preferably at first before a mirror, where his movements can be observed and errors corrected.

In the "Fighting Gladiator" exercise, stand with the left foot about twenty-eight inches in advance of the right, as shown in Figure one, with the weight on the right leg, the left forearm held across the lower chest and the right forearm near the right side as shown. Then strike out from the shoulder with the right arm, springing at the same time from the right foot, extending the right leg and throwing the weight forward on to the left leg. As the right arm and side advance the left arm and shoulder are drawn back, as shown in Figure two. Repeat the exercise. Try the same movement with right leg advanced and position of arms reversed.

In the "Mercury Poise" exercise, stand with the feet apart and the knees bent, as shown in Figure one. Then strike out from the shoulder with the right arm, springing at the same time from the right foot, extending the right leg and throwing the weight forward on to the left leg. This is a general reply to the questions of many young men about to cast their first vote--a general view of things, the facts in detail.

A detailed black and white illustration of a giant eagle standing on a rocky outcrop. The eagle is massive, with its wings and tail feathers extending far beyond the frame. Two small human figures are included for scale: one stands to the left of the eagle's feet, and another is crouching near the base of the eagle's tail. The artist's signature 'ROBERT CARTER' is visible in the lower left corner.

THE performance of "Personal" I witnessed last evening at the Trenton Theatre was remarkable. I cannot say too much in praise of it. I never expected it would reach this perfection. It did.

At the same time I want to say I was really surprised at the light attendance at the higher priced seats. It would appear as though the persons of limited means appreciated the great masterpiece more than the wealthy ones. "Paradise" will be better patronized. Mr. Savage will be given better support in the future, I have no doubt.

I witnessed "Paradise" four times at Hayreath and was at the Metropolitan Theatre House in New York.

they look and sing the part better than Lyric.

There is a crow, Ch. is compared with the structure of Ch. in that it is being projected from the theatre of Tremont Street out of into the horizon, into the surrounding landscape at the house at Harvard. Then, the visitor is placed in a position for the observation of this projection by a camera, causing the rails and the lines in the interior to be twice projected. He is to assume the position of a tourist in a street where he is to be able to observe the impression of the ground. It shakes out a little, like the pattern of a rug in a street, spread upon it after listening to the box of a music

"Pardon! I am only have some advice in it, I respect for I had to pass across the Common to my house, and I am not sure that we cannot see the effect of the law to be at Haverth."

The orchestra of course considering that they played from 11 o'clock in the morning to 11 at night was not as exacting as a night club or a "thing" showing a concert of other instrument for twelve o'clock or 1 o'clock.

FITZGERALD
FRTZI SCHIEFF AND MAY IRWIN
TO STAR IN BOSTON THIS WEEK

LAST week was one of the most notable in the recent history of the Boston show. This coming week will be scarcely less so. Most of the principal features of the past six days will still be here and two new attractions will add to the list.

Prize Schiff, who left the grand opera stage to become a light opera star, will come to the Colonial in "The Two Roses." May has also returned to the stage after a two-year absence and will appear at the Park in "Mrs. Blacke's Bank." Floren, a Redcliffe, and John, the son of "The Street Singer," will appear at the Colonial Theatre.

Park Theatre May have lost its reputation as the neighborhood's premier theater, but it's still got a few tricks up its sleeve. The 1,200-seat theater, which has been the home of the New York City Opera since 1962, is now the home of the New York City Ballet. MAGNOLIA, Oct. 22.—Despite the late season, a large number of the cottagers, who usually close their houses the early part of October, still remain on the shore.

Mr. Ernest S. Hamilton, who entered his cottage at Lenox, at Lenox, during the week, will close his cottage next Thursday and return to Boston.

Mr. F. C. Calkins closed their Gloucester road cottage Wednesday.

The Mrs. Northampton, who were at their Gloucester cottage a few days this week, returned to New York yesterday.

The George F. Williams occupied the Northampton house this week.

The Henry S. Slaves closed their place yesterday and opened their house.

Miss G. Houghton has closed her place and sailed a few days ago for an extended tour.

During the season the Berkshires have been a most interesting place for the Boston people. The weather, which in the country has been ideal, has not been conducive to many returns of the summer people. The North shore still claims a number of the local set, Lenox and Virginia Hot Springs have an unusually large number of Boston people.

Boston's Smart People Are Returning to Their Winter Homes—The Past Week Quite Gay.

WHAT has transpired the past week of interest to society anxious of what is to come later in the season when people are at their winter homes, and receptions and dinners being given, and the theaters being filled with fashionable gatherings.

The weather, which in the country has been ideal, has not been conducive to many returns of the summer people.

The North shore still claims a number of the local set, Lenox and Virginia Hot Springs have an unusually large number of Boston people.

It is surprising what a number of people are still away. A walk through the Back Bay still reveals a number of houses that retain their mid-summer aspect of shutters and draperies.

Probably the past week will see more returns than any week thus far this season. A number of people are to return from abroad the coming week. This will open some of the Back Bay homes.

The latter part of the week many will take a trip to New York to attend the Woodward-Clyde nuptials. It is generally conceded that there has never been an out-of-town wedding in which local society has been so deeply interested.

Full 200 Boston people are planning to attend the first night production of "Parasite" at the Tremont Theatre called for a smart gathering, and those of society who are interested in music were especially in evidence.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hopkins, Jr., who were married recently at Lenox, are expected at their new home in Boston about the first of November. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins are at present in New York. They plan to make a visit to Virginia Hot Springs before they come to Boston for the winter.

One of the debutantes of the coming season is Miss Helen M. Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hamilton. She is expected to appear at the South Shore. The Mablettes have a charming place at Lenox. They are expected to make a visit to Virginia Hot Springs before they come to Boston for the winter.

BOSTON SOCIETY AT SMART FALL WEDDING

PRACTICALLY all the Boston set, who are in the city at present, went out to Beverly Farms Wednesday noon to attend the wedding of Miss Letitia M. Brown and Miss Letitia M. Brown. The ceremony was at the Morton Summer home at Beverly Farms. The Rev. Paul Rogers presided. There were no attendants. The couple performed a quiet home affair, rather than a church wedding. Miss Letitia M. Brown was charming in an inspired gown of white satin trimmed with much lace. She wore a long tulle veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

WEEK END PARTIES AT BEVERLY FARMS

Special to the Sunday American. BEVERLY FARMS, Oct. 22.—Among the Boston families who closed their houses this week and returned to town are the Philip Dexters, the S. B. Dexters, the George E. Warrens, the G. H. Dexters and the George L. Dexters. Mrs. Robert Gould Shaw closed their place on West Beach a few days ago and are now on their farm in Connecticut.

At her beautiful place here Wednesday night, Mrs. Hodge entertained a party of her friends.

Work and parties continued to be quite the order of the day. The Dexters, the Warrens, the George E. Warrens, the G. H. Dexters and the George L. Dexters.

CRYING AND SLEEPING TWIN DOLLS

A PAIR OF BEAUTIES

THIS LOVELY PAIR of twin sister dolls, Florodora and Bedelia, are the new arrivals from faraway doll-land, and are real beauties, nearly

One and One-Third Feet Tall.

Florodora is the new wonder blond doll, with bisque head, curly hair, lace trimmed dress, hat, ribbon sash, etc. Pull the spring and Florodora cries in a very natural baby manner. Bedelia is a handsome brunette sleeping beauty doll, with automatic closing eyes, dark curly ringlets, bisque head, lace trimmed dress, hat, shoes, stockings, etc., complete. Goes to sleep the same as any tired baby.

TELLING POINTS BY NATHAN MATTHEWS

[illegible][illegible][illegible]

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal sulfur and molasses "cure-all," and, indeed, his old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficia

In recent years, research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. These are small chocolate coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dressed up with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Wafer is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for toxic and kidney troubles, and cure the skin, when it purifies the blood in a way that no other surprise patient and treat can do.

Dr R. M. Wilkins, whose experiments with various remedies soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was the best, says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation, this material has been unsurpassed at all results obtained with any other medicine." Wilkins writes: "In patients suffering from liver and kidney troubles, I have repeatedly seen them dry up and have recovered in four or five days, leaving the skin clean and fresh. Although Sturancium Calcium is sold by druggists, and for that reason labored by many physicians, it is nevertheless a safe, reliable and reliable for constipation, safe and kidney troubles and especially in all forms of skin disease as this remedy."

At any rate people who are tired of pills, cathartic and so-called blood purifiers will find that Sturancium Calcium is a far safer, more reliable and effective preparation.

WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"I take the liberty to drop you a few lines to let you know of my wonderful cure by Cuticura. My head was one mass of scales and my forehead was covered down almost to my eyebrows. I had to wear my hat all the time. My legs, arms, and body were covered with spots in and from a pin-head to as large as a silver dollar. A white, crusty scab would form and itch, and words cannot express how I suffered for fifteen years. I tried many doctors and all kinds of treatment, but could get no help, and thought there was no hope for me. While in Michigan last summer a friend told me to get Cuticura. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment, and in three days my head was as clear as it ever was. I applied the ointment night and morning, also taking a hot bath three times a week, and using the ointment freely after the bath. After using one cake of soap and two boxes of ointment I was completely cured, without a mark on my head or body. I was so pleased I felt like taking my hat in my hand and running down the street to tell every one I met what Cuticura had done for me. I shall ever use any other soap but Cuticura. If any one is in doubt about this they may write to me. (Signed) H. B. FRANKLIN, 717 Washington St., Allegheny, Pa."

Fifty Spectators Are Compelled to Flee from Their Lives as the Big Machine Smashes After Throwing Out Its Driver

WIDEGWAY ESCAPES WITH SLIGHT BRUISES

Special to the Sunday American. Brighton Beach, Oct. 22.—An accident in which a score of persons narrowly escaped serious injury and probably death added to the excitement of the auto race this afternoon. A. O. Widegway, driving a Portier machine, was thrown from his car in the fourth race. The machine dashed through a picket fence, just missing about fifty spectators.

The accident happened in the fourth race known as the Brighton handicap. Widegway was just making the turn into the home stretch when his machine became unmanageable, and entered into the inner rail. The impact threw Widegway out heavily to the ground. He was, however, confined across the track as the terrific pace, making a great deal for the fence by which stood many onlookers.

There was a great deal of safety, and barely had the crowd got away when the machine went into the fence, carrying all before it and knocking down a few spectators. The machine was a Portier, and was driven by A. O. Widegway. It was a very fast machine, and was in the lead when it crashed.

BROUGHT BACK TO BOSTON TO FACE OLD CHARGE.

Dora Staten, After a Host of Startling Adventures, Is at Last Caught by Bondsmen Who Lost Her $200 Bail

Dora Staten, who three attempted suicide in Providence, where she lived with her husband, George E. Staten, has been brought back to Boston, where she was arrested some months ago, subsequently disappearing and causing the forfeiture of $200 cash bail, put up for her by Frederick Williams.

On her arraignment she was given a $200 bail, and was committed to the house of correction at Dorchester. She was known to several aliases, the police say, of Redman, Hamilton and Richards. When her husband learned of her arrest in Providence he went to the city with the necessary papers and the girl was delivered to his custody, to be brought back to Boston for trial.

Sending Free to All Who Ask Prof. Hoff's Success Crowns National Newspaper Plan to Relieve AT HOME Every Case of Tuberculosis, Asthma and Weak Lungs.

Duty of the Strong to Help the Weak—Human Movement Is Curing Thousands

Crusade Began With N. Y. Journal Test Case.

Generous Response from Friends of Sufferers Who Are Asked to Aid in the Philanthropic Work.

FROM the test case of Frederick Hamman—now grown historical—work begun a few months ago for the benefit of the 800,000 sufferers from consumption in America has progressed to a point never before thought possible.

Hamman was selected by the New York Journal, from all the consumptives in the City of New York, sent to Professor Adolf Hoff in Vienna, at that newspaper's expense, and cured.

His cure was sensational. It was vouched for by the ablest physicians and scientists in America and by the New York Board of Health.

An American Bureau was founded to disseminate the medicine which cured him. Newspapers were called on to assist in the noble work. Doctors and druggists, religious societies and public institutions were enlisted in the cause.

To reach consumption—and its kindred diseases, asthma and weak lungs—in the home, from which a vast majority of the sufferers cannot get away, it was determined that intensive practical measures must be adopted.

Sufferers, and particularly friends of sufferers, must be furnished free with enough of the medicine to convince them that the greatest medical boon to humanity is at hand, and readily and cheaply obtainable.

The notice of a free distribution of the medicine to all sufferers from consumption, or threatened with the disease, has been the coupon literally by the thousand, and started the great movement to raise the tide of recovery.

It has been definitely proven by us well under way, the leading New York newspaper, that it is the bounden duty of every one who knows of a sufferer from consumption, or threatened with the disease, to help him to get well.

The season is here when the ravages of the disease are quickened, autumn and early winter. When relief is so easily obtainable—when every stricken friend may furnish it to his neighbor—when every sufferer who is cured—can't it be worth your while to fill the coupon in the course of this race with the same good will?

You will be helping to fight human suffering's greatest foe.

Those who can afford it—the rich who are stricken by the disease as well as the poor—are wrapping their arms about them and forwarding to the place cars to the dry climates of California, Florida and Arizona.

It eludes being these people—and it has its good effect in any disease—how much more would it do if accompanied by this proper medicine.

But for one rich sufferer there are hundreds in moderate circumstances who have no money and cannot reach them. Professor Hoff said he could not sufficiently emphasize this point when he took up the work for the American newspapers.

In an editorial on July 24, 1904, after this crusade of the American Bureau

MICROBES CANNOT BE KILLED BY MANIFESTOES

None Can Preach to Sufferers Better Than the One Who Has Himself Suffered.

If I could personally further the cause of my fellow sufferers by the American Bureau, to furnish enough from medicine to every consumptive and sufferer from asthma and asthma to prove his complete efficacy, I should gladly do so.

By thus addressing sufferers who are facing what I faced, I may do more good. Especially is it my desire to give relief to the sufferers from asthma and asthma.

Willard, before this statement was made, has traveled far, many who are now well and strong will have developed the preliminary symptoms of consumption. It is no subject should the public be so deeply interested, for I know nothing of Professor Adolf Hoff's cure. It is a poor sufferer I was struck out, as if by Providence, that the test of the cure was in the hands of the sufferer, that his experience may be the experience of others.

DORCHESTER HIGH WINS EASILY OVER MALDEN IN BIG CHAMP SERIES

Losers Tackled Dorchester Runners High, and With Bad Results, During Course of Play.

In one of the most exciting football games of the season, the Dorchester High School team defeated the Malden High School team in a big championship series. The game was played at the Saugus track, and the Dorchester team won by a score of 14 to 0. The game was a hard-fought one, with both teams showing great skill and determination. The Dorchester team's defense was particularly strong, tackling the Malden runners high and preventing them from gaining any ground. The Dorchester team's offense was also very effective, with several long runs and a powerful kick.

Losers Limped Away.
After a hard-fought game, the Malden team limped away from the field. Several players were injured during the game, and the team's performance was far from its best. The Dorchester team, on the other hand, showed great resilience and determination, even when they were downed by the Malden runners. The game was a clear demonstration of the Dorchester team's superiority in football.

TECH BOYS RUN CROSS COUNTRY

The fourth weekly hare and hounds run of the Tech cross-country teams was held at Hyde Park. The course was laid toward the Mine-Hills and return, covering five and one-half miles. About one and a half miles from the start one of the hares, not knowing the country, became lost, and soon afterward the other hare was caught. Captain E. Lorentz, Tech's first runner, went out with his hare and they laid a new trail.

The course was in good condition, and all of the men finished except the hare who was lost. The hares were R. Bell, P. J. Hays, A. C. Tucker.

Next week's hare and hounds was Captain E. Lorentz with the following:

entud. M. C. MacGregor, G. H. Rug-len, A. P. Callaway, C. A. Howard, W. A.
Torre, B. G. Gimmon, E. H. Campbell.

SEMI-FINAL ROUND

P. W. Broadhead, of the Salem Golf Club, by defeating E. F. Willett, of the Country Club, of Brookline, on the latter course, in one of the semi-final matches in the open play tournament, to meet the winner of the Whitmore-Stevenson match which is to be played tomorrow. The semi-final was called off on account of which is to be played tomorrow. The semi-final was called off on account of which is to be played tomorrow.

Gentlemen:-

We feel it is your due, to know that, from our advertising in your Pianos & Organs column we have received most gratifying returns. We were reluctant to use the American owing to the prejudice prevailing among advertisers against a new paper, but the returns have convinced me that it is a very profitable medium.

Yours very truly,
